QUESTIONS: AAPRAE@UCLA.EDU

AAP's Research, Assessment and Evaluation (RAE) Unit invites AAP students who are interested in conducting research about AAP to apply to become an Undergraduate Research Assistant for the 2020-2021 academic year.

AAP RAE Undergraduate Research Assistants (RAs) will commit 10 hours per week to AAP research projects, workshops, and team meetings. This is an unpaid position but SRP 99 course credit will be available to those interested. RAs will have opportunities to collect and analyze data, learn data analysis and visualization software, and gain marketable research skills. Additionally, RAs will benefit from research methods workshops and mentorship from RAE staff.

Eligibility: The application is open to second-year students and all transfer students. Applicants must be AAP Members. No previous research experience is necessary.

Apply here: www.tinyurl.com/AAP-RAE-2020-RAs.

Please note that you will need to be logged into your UCLA Gmail account to access the form.

Application is due Friday, October 23rd at Noon (PDT). Interviews for selected candidates will take place in November 2020.

For questions, please contact aaprae@ucla.edu.

Program Overview:

The UCLA McNair Research Scholars Program is a two-year research-intensive program that prepares undergraduate students to apply to the best graduate programs in the country and excel in graduate school while pursuing a Ph.D. in the humanities, arts, social sciences and STEM. During their two years in the program, McNair students enroll in a weekly McNair Research Seminar course and in the Student Research Program (SRP 99) where they develop an individual research project under the guidance and supervision of a UCLA Faculty Mentor. In the summer between their first and second year in the program, McNair Scholars participate in the UCLA McNair Summer Research Institute, which includes faculty-supervised research, graduate mentoring, and intensive workshops on graduate school admission. In their second year, McNair Scholars enroll in independent study courses with their respective UCLA Faculty Mentor, complete their individual research project and write a senior thesis. Students get research scholarships as they apply to graduate school, present at academic conferences in their discipline, complete the McNair Research Seminar series, and submit their research for publication.

*For McNair program information sessions and application support please visit:

<https://www.aap.ucla.edu/programs/mcnair-research-scholars/>

Eligibility Criteria:

To be eligible for the UCLA McNair Research Scholars Program, applicants must meet at least one of the following criteria:

- Be a low-income and first-generation college student; or
 - Be a member of an underrepresented group within graduate education
- Applicants must also:
- Be a United States citizen or permanent resident
 - Be a currently enrolled UCLA undergraduate student (open to all majors)
 - Be a third-year or a transfer student who has completed 90 to 175 units by Fall 2020
 - Demonstrate academic potential for graduate study
 - Be available June 21 – July 30, 2021 for the McNair Summer Research Institute

The USC PhD in Urban Education Policy program trains students to become scholars and researchers. It is a funded, 4 years and 4 summers, full-time, on-campus program and students work a research assistantship under the guidance of a faculty advisor. We have four concentrations within the Urban Education Policy program, which include Educational Psychology, Higher Education, K12 Education Policy and Teacher Education. Students work as research assistants for 20 hours a week and receive the following benefits for their work:

1. annual stipend of $32,000
2. 12 units of tuition each semester
3. payment of health and dental premiums
4. payment of the student health center fee

We also want to share exciting news that Dr. Pedro Noguera is the new Dean of the USC Rossier School of Education. We are looking forward to his leadership as we continue our work to achieve educational equity.

Our 2020 first-year cohort consists of 61.54% first-generation college students and 15.38% international students. Furthermore, our first-year students identify as 30.76% Latinx or Hispanic, 30.76% Asian or Pacific Islander, 23% White, 15.38% Black or African American, and 7.69% 2 or more ethnicities.

Prospective students can contact us anytime rsoephd@rossier.usc.edu. Please let us know if you have any questions!

Our applications for a fall 2021 start are open now and due by 11:59pm PST on December 1, 2020.

Please note that prior to COVID-19, the PhD in Urban Education Policy Program recently enhanced its admissions criteria and requirements to continue to ensure that future PhD applicants are evaluated holistically, rigorously, and equitably. Highlights of our revised policy moving forward include that 1) GRE scores are neither required nor expected, and 2) a writing sample is now required. Please review the recent changes to our PhD Application Requirements webpage, which has been updated as of June 2020. To learn more about the rationale for these changes, review our revised GRE admissions policy letter from our PhD faculty.

We are gearing up for the upcoming AAP Spark Campaign. Launch date - we are aiming for around November 10 with the campaign ending a day or two after Giving Tuesday on Dec 1. Details soon!
